

Concept

The growth pain of femininity: to be a female, is to be a flower bloomed out of blood, sweat and tears. The petals are the sweat during the birth of one child, the leaves are the tears shed during tough and emotional times, and the blood are what one bleeds out every month during the menstrual cycle and 10 months after childbirth. All of these feature makes up what it means to be a female: soft, fluid, yet firm.

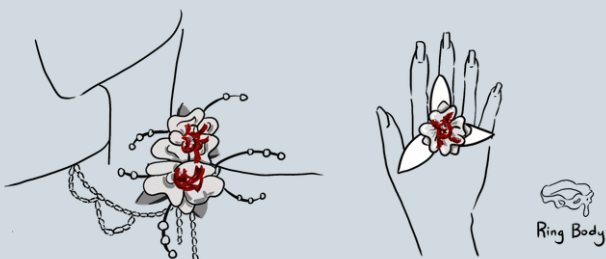

Techniques

- Soldering
- Annealing
- Wax casting
- Piercing
- Milling

Materials

- Fishing lines
- Hot Glue
- Ribbons
- Shrink plastics

Sketches

Tools

- Hot glue gun
- Hot wind blower
- Lighter
- Metalsmithing gadgets
- Pliers
- Rolling mill

